

Dear Parents, Teachers, and PEAKers,

The student invention projects look amazing, and their presentations are just about complete! Student teams spent last week's PEAK classes writing and practicing their presentations, including very fun "commercials" to show off their invention projects. I'm sure you will all want to have many of these inventions in your lives! They are highly creative, and in many cases I have been wondering, "Why hasn't someone actually made this?!" We can't wait to show these off to you next week!

The presentations will be here at Rossiter on each PEAK day next week, Feb. 3-6 from 11:00am-12:00pm in our classroom (Room 1). I hope you can make it!

This week we will also finish our New Year's Resolutions project. Students created mini booklets with N. Y. Resolutions in four categories: Health, Family, Friends, and Free (any topic they can think of). They will now add steps in each resolution to help them achieve their 2025 goals. The booklets will be coming home this week.

This Week's Activities: February 3 - 7

Intrapersonal: Self-Expression I can express my own interests, values, emotions, etc. within a project.	Resolutions 2025 - Students each wrote New Year's Resolutions in four categories. This week, they will identify steps to complete these goals.
Communication: Presentation Skills I can present in front of an audience of parents, peers, and educators.	Invention Presentation - Student teams will give presentations to share their design processes and their invention projects with a parent audience.
Critical Thinking: Summative Eval. I can understand and complete a pre-made evaluation for myself and/or others, and analyze the results.	Presentation Evaluation - Student teams will analyze the data they receive for their presentations. Students will also complete a unit-end evaluation.

Ready to Share with the World,

J. Slead & C. Sieminski
