Welcome to Latin IV!

This is the fourth in a series of four courses which teach the Latin Language as well as aspects of the ancient Roman culture. In this course you will review the grammar which you learned in the previous courses. You will study more advanced grammar. You will translate adapted Latin texts and genuine Latin texts written by authors such as Ovid, Catullus, Caesar, and Vergil. Upon successful completion of this course, you should have the skills for reading a passage with the assistance of some notes.

Be involved!

Participation:

Since your active engagement in lessons will dramatically impact your learning, I expect you to be fully engaged throughout each lesson.

Electronic Devices:

Personal electronic device for learning must be brought to class. If you are using your device(s) inappropriately, I will give you a warning. If this happens again you will be asked to take your device(s) to the office where it is officially recorded. Please refer to the student handbook for the full electronic device policy.

Be respectful!

Be respectful of your teacher and peers. We are all here to learn and grow as individuals. Be respectful of school property and equipment. Respect your peers by not discussing who is or is not wearing a face mask, and/or who has or has not been vaccinated.

Be responsible!

Attendance:

Please be here and be on time. The more time you spend in class the more I can teach you!

Tardies:

After four tardies (per semester) I will automatically write a referral. For further tardy policy information please refer to the student handbook.

Food & Drink:

Food and drink are allowed unless it becomes a distraction to the student or the class.

Cheating:

There is no need for cheating in this class to get a better grade. If you don't know something by the time of the test or quiz, you will have additional support and more opportunities to learn the information for the retake. Therefore, cheating will not be tolerated. Your parents will be contacted and a referral will be written if you are cheating.
